

angelique skoulas

Angelique is consultant with Triad Consulting Group and an executive coach specializing in leadership development, conflict management and communication.

She has worked with a broad range of clients to improve leadership and communication strategies including: Nixon Peabody, Deutsche Bank, UBS, Janssen Cilag, Avon, Cubist Pharmaceuticals, Genzyme, The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), The Monitor Group, The United States Department of Defense, The National Institutes of Health, The Association for Public and Land Grant Universities, The Initiative for Diversity in Civic Leadership, The Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation, The American Dental Education Association and The Deans' Institute of North America.

Angelique currently runs a leadership course for top scientists at the National Institute for Allergy and Infectious Diseases. Angelique is also the co-director of the Graduate Leadership Studies program at Harvard School of Dental Medicine where her research includes studying the impact that courses in leadership and effective communication have on career development.

Angelique holds a Doctor of Dental Surgery degree, and a Master's in Public Administration from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. She is a graduate of the Leadership Coaching Program at Georgetown University, and is a credentialed executive coach through the International Coach Federation. She is a former Congressional Fellow with the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Angelique can be reached at skoulas@diffcon.com.