

zandy fell

Zandy is a consultant with Triad Consulting Group and a conflict resolution facilitator based in Melbourne, Australia. She is a guest lecturer in the MBA Program at Monash University, and served as a lead conflict manager with the Toyota Motor Corporation at their main Australian manufacturing plant for nearly a decade.

Zandy draws on her operational, legal, and employee relations background to create change through relationship building and coaching. Zandy has worked with the Department of Justice and other government departments, some of Australia's leading Universities and international law firms, as well as significant companies in the retail, hospitality and manufacturing industries. Zandy has a deep knowledge and skill in dispute problem solving, industrial relations negotiation, workplace investigations, restorative justice conferencing, performance management, employee life cycle and diversity.

Zandy has a Law and an Arts degree from Monash University and a Graduate Diploma in Human Resources. She is a nationally Accredited Mediator (IAMA), Workplace Restorative Justice Conferencing Facilitator and has a Certificate IV in Business and Personal Coaching (International Coach Federation Approved), as well as a Certificate IV in Workplace Training and Assessment.

When Zandy is not negotiating her way into and out of trouble, she is running a busy family of 5 and is an active participant in a range of community organizations.
